HIGHLIGHTS

Cup Cleanup

You know that travel mug or water bottle that's always with you? Don't forget to give it a deep clean. Because of crevices in the lids, experts say it's best to wash the cups by hand with soapy warm water, scrubbing the tops with a small brush, then rinse and let air-dry.

Keep a Budget Planner

Tracking your expenses is the best way to stay in control of your budget, and an easy, visual method is to write down every purchase in a weekly planner. This lets you see exactly how much money you spent on a specific day, helping you notice patterns and plan ahead for weeks that tend to have more expenses.

Tip for Your Lips

To avoid spreading any germs on your hands to your mouth, use a lip balm that comes in a tube instead of a product that you have to apply with your fingers.

Try Tilapia

If you'd like to reel in more fish for your meals, but aren't a fan of tuna, salmon or shrimp, try tilapia. The freshwater fish has become a top pick since it has a mild, not-too-fishy flavor. It's also budget-friendly and healthy, and can be on the table in as little as 10 minutes, whether it's baked, steamed or fried.

The World of Windmills

The blustery breezes of March create the perfect conditions for one of the earliest machines, the windmill. Hold on—these facts about the amazing structures may blow you away!

- Built to harness the power of the wind, windmills have been around for over a thousand years, and most likely originated in Iran and China.
- Their main jobs were to pump water and grind grain into flour. Most modern windmills, called turbines, convert wind energy to electricity.
- The large, spinning blades on a windmill are called sails.
- You've probably seen photos of the iconic stone windmills in the Netherlands. They're celebrated as symbols of Dutch culture and are popular tourist attractions throughout the country.
- During the Dutch Golden Age in the 1600s, windmills cropped up in many paintings as a symbol of strength.
- A classic sight in parts of rural America is a style of windmill called a wind pump or wind engine, used to pump water from wells. These spindly metal or wooden towers, topped with a wheel of blades, were common on farms in the late 1800s.
- Because of their moving parts and charming look, windmills are often a featured obstacle on miniature golf courses.
- Paris' famous cabaret the Moulin Rouge, which is French for "red mill," is known for the giant windmill that sits on the building's roof.

With a Little Luck

You might have one in your home, wear one as a piece of jewelry or carry one with you as a way to gain good fortune. Lucky charms and symbols are a fun tradition worldwide.

There's a long history of holding on to or displaying certain tokens to encourage health, wealth, love and protection. Coins are a common example in many cultures, whether you find one on the ground, toss them into a fountain or keep one in a pocket or purse. There's the horseshoe, which when pointed up gathers luck, or turned down showers it. Other shapes and objects that are said to inspire and attract good things are the heart, circle, key and ladder.

Nature is full of good luck signs. One of the most visible this time of year, thanks to Irish folklore, is the four-leaf clover. Find one of these rare plants, and luck is yours. In China, the bamboo plant grows your chances of wealth and happiness. Look to the skies, and a rainbow will lead to a pot of gold, while spotting a falling star can grant a wish.

Animals can also give you a leg up. Japan's "lucky cat," with its raised paw, signals happiness and prosperity. In Australia, frogs have similar powers; pigs are the pick in Germany; and in India, it's elephants. Members of the insect world, including ladybugs, crickets and dragonflies, symbolize luck in many countries.

Recharge Your Life With Positivity

Optimism is good for you! People who are optimists tend to be happier, healthier and more successful, says the research. Here are several ways you can make positivity a habit.

Choose a motivational mantra. Whether a line from a favorite song, a meaningful quote, or a goal you want to achieve, turn to inspiring words when you need a pick-me-up.

Hang out with upbeat people. We tend to act like those we're surrounded by the most, so spend time with cheerful, kind people rather than those who complain or gossip. Being around negative attitudes can cause you to take on a negative mindset.

Assume the best. Give people the benefit of the doubt, and forgive them for their faults, even if they let you down. Do this for yourself, too!

Focus on solutions. When you encounter a problem, avoid playing the blame game or dwelling on how you could have done things differently. That doesn't solve anything, and can make you and others feel worse. Instead, look at what you can do right now.

Practice gratitude. Before you go to bed, think about three good things that happened that day. Writing them down in a journal, where you can also track your accomplishments, will remind you of things to be grateful for and boost your hopeful thinking.

WIT & WISDOM

A Full Load of Laundry Tips

Wash, dry and fold. Doing laundry is one of those routine chores that's often done on autopilot. We've found some helpful tips that will make your loads come out their cleanest and keep clothes looking their best.

First, try to tackle stains before they have time to set. Pretreat by pouring some detergent directly on the stain or applying a stain remover.

When sorting loads, take time for a few quick checks: Empty clothing pockets to avoid any potential disasters. Unroll balled-up socks and unfold any turned-up sleeves. Turn jeans, cotton T-shirts and sweaters inside out; this will keep fabrics from pilling and colors from fading. To prevent snags, zip zippers and close snaps or hooks. But don't button up buttons! That can damage them.

Don't overdo the detergent. More soap doesn't equal cleaner laundry. Too many suds can leave dirt and residue on fabrics.

Overloading the washer is another mistake. Give items space to agitate.

As soon as the wash cycle is done, remove the laundry and shake out each piece before transferring to the dryer. This cuts down on wrinkles, and the load will tumble better. To speed up drying time, toss a dry towel into the wet load. Avoid overdrying, which can cause fading and shrinking.

Hanging laundry to dry is another option. Experts say air-drying helps clothes smell fresher and last longer.
